GREEN Future

NETWORKING FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

European Scout Environment Seminar

22.–25. August 2013

Can we participate in environmental legislation processes?
Do Scouts reduce our impact on the climate?

Dear friends in Scouting,
Dear Scouts,

interested in environmental issues, climate, nature, water, environmental politics and more...

In August we'd like to invite you to gather at our SCENES Centre Westernohe, Germany, for an International Scout Environment Seminar.

"Green Future – Networking for the Environment" -your good practice examples, your innovative projects, your ideas should be a big part of it. Shearing, learning, scouting – and developing ideas for cooperation and enhancing the impact of the world's largest youth movement for a better future.

Step 1: What can we do?

In the first step we want to discuss, what people and especially scouts can do to save the planet. Advocacy in environmental issues is one of the key activities to convince our friends, families, people and politicians.

Step 2: What do scouts do?

The World Scout Environment Programme offers tools, resources and initiatives to help Scouts all around the world work together for the good of the local and global environment.

Step 3: What do we do?

Show us your project. What are you doing in your country? We want to share good ideas and spread the projects among each other.

Step 4: What's next?

Finally, we want to develop new projects with you. With several creative methods we want to animate you, to create new green projects.

Beneath the program we want to get known to each other, share our contacts and build up a network for environmental scouting all over Europe.
